Diane Gorth

I love! I really know you don't know. What I don't know I can't be able to learn that I watch you eyes. What I know (during the play) I can't my moments (during the play) I can't mind was? I can't be able to I know. I can't be able to College is going to be beautiful for whether it is or not. I can't be able to you

Love,
Mike

Diane
dear - you are a beautiful girl and if that weren't enough to assure you success in life forever - you are extremely intelligent (especially in chemistry) and a great warm girl too - Remember all Laure's times and people and I hope to see your picture on Vogue - your name in smart's lists and a great guy by your side forever

*Dear Mine: Love & best wishes,
Mrs. B.*

DEDICATION

Time: 8:30 am, Tuesday

Place: Sylvan glade, under an oak tree, where the Senior class gathers to discuss matters of grave import.

Leader: Our voices we lift, our banners we raise To laud Mrs. Bickford and heap her with praise.
Now proclaim, both loud and true
What Mrs. Bickford has done for you.

Young Woman 1: Achievement test forms were due Thursday last But mine was not ready until that day passed.
To Mrs. B's I crept with my late form and shame;
She sent it airmail. Let us extol her name!

Young Woman 2: Many a day when laughter was rare
Was brightened by her humor (beyond compare!)

Young Woman 3: Problems with colleges, grades, applications
We brought to our Dean with due supplications,
But when she was absent or elsewhere concerned
To Mrs. B's wisdom we often have turned.

Young Woman 1: I faced the typing test, trembling with fear.
One word from her gave me hope and cheer.

Leader: I do hereby declare we are all of one mind That indeed Mrs. Bickford is the BEST we could find Unto whom to dedicate this book, leaf and bud
In token of what she spared us—sweat, tears and blood.

AND WE THANK HER!

(sky flashes and thunders with heavenly approbation.)

THE ESTABLISHMENT

Miss Frost: Cheerfulness keeps up a kind of daylight in the mind, and fills it with a steady and perpetual serenity.

Mr. Jennings: Here we go round the Mulberry bush.

Mrs. Johns: O tempora, O mores!
O what times, O what habits!

Miss Frost, Mr. Jennings, Mrs. Johns.

Mrs. Bickford, Mrs. Goldbeck, Miss Sloan.

Mrs. Bickford: Cheer up! the worst is yet to come.

Mrs. Goldbeck: Then the black-bright, smooth-running, clicking clean Brushed, oiled and dainty typewriting machine,
With tins of ribbons waiting for the blows
Which soon will hammer them to verse and prose.

Miss Sloan: Poor Lamb, if he wants any knowledge he may apply to me.

Mrs. Myers: Work—work—work,
Till the brain begins to swim:
Work—work—work,
Till the eyes are heavy and dim.

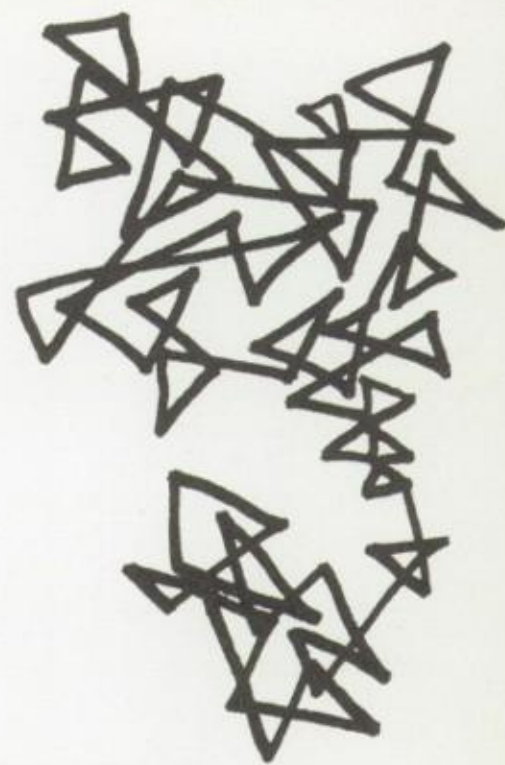

Mrs. Myers.

Mr. Lee, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Weiss, Mrs. Hines.

AVANT GUARD

Mr. Lee: The true teacher defends his pupils against his own personal influence.

Mrs. Hines: Strip your Louis Quatorze of king-gear, and there is nothing left but a poor forked radish with a head fantastically carved.

Mrs. Murray: Mock on, mock on, Voltaire, Rousseau;
Mock on, mock on, 'tis all in vain!
You throw the sand against the wind
And the wind blows it back again.

Mrs. Weiss: Because I have confidence in the power of truth and spirit, I believe in the future of mankind.

Seated: Dr. Greenlee. Standing: Miss Hotchkiss, Mrs. Jordon, Miss Steichen, Mrs. Lalire.

Miss Hotchkiss: I like to do all the talking myself. It saves time and prevents arguments.

Mrs. Jordan: To stroke a platitude until it purrs like an epigram.

Miss Steichen: There is a pleasure in the earthless woods,
There is a rapture in the lonely shore . . .
I love not man the less, but Nature more.

Dr. Greenlee: Greensleeves was all my joy,
Greensleeves was my delight,
Greensleeves was my heart of gold,
And who but Lady Greensleeves?

Mrs. Lalire: Friends whom the world honours shall lament their eternal losses in the profoundest of crevasses, while he on the green mountains converses gently with his unapproachable love.

THE NUMBERS RACKET

Dr. Hall: Ounce, dice, trice, quartz, quince, sago, serpent, oxygen, nitrogen, denim.

Mrs. Wooden:

♂ ♀ * + ∞

Dr. Evans: Nature and Nature's laws lay hid in the night:
God said Let Newton be! and all was light.

Mr. Sanford: Where on earth am I?

Dr. Hall, Mrs. Wooden, Dr. Evans, Mr. Sanford.

Mr. Moore: The female knee is a joint and not an entertainment.

Mrs. Rutherford: The important thing is not so much that every child should be taught, as that every child should be given the wish to learn.

Mrs. Schloss: Mathematics contain much that will neither hurt one if one does not know it nor help one if one does not know it.

Mrs. White: The five fingers are not all equal.

Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Lawyer, Mrs. Schloss, Mrs. White, Mr. Moore.

Mrs. Lawyer: In mathematics he was greater Than Tycho Brahe or Erra Pater;
For he by geometric scale
Could take the size of pots of ale;
Resolve by sines and tangents, straight
If bread or butter wanted weight;
And wisely tell what hour o' th' day
The clock does strike, by algebra.

THE MUSES

(Minus Clio and Urania)

Miss O'Hara, Mrs. Schenk, Mrs. Biehle.

Miss O'Hara: Botticelli is not a wine you Juggins! It's a cheese.

Mrs. Schenk: He flits across the stage a transient and embarrassed phantom.

Mrs. Biehle: As the sun colours flowers, so does art colour life.

Mr. Carr, Mrs. Webster, Miss Meyers.

Mr. Carr: 'Twas on a Monday morning,
Right early in the year
That Charlie came to our town
The Young Chevalier.

Mrs. Webster: Rings on her fingers and bells on her toes
And so she makes music wherever she goes.

Miss Meyers: Of music Dr. Johnson used to say that it was the only sensual pleasure without vice.

He whose face gives no light, shall never become a star.

Miss Lauber: Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong.

Miss Gerfen: AMOOOOOOOUR

Mrs. Yedid: Come, sing now, sing;
for I know you sing well;
I see you have a singing face.

Mrs. Spencer: And French she spak ful faire and fetishly.

Mrs. Spencer, Miss Gerfen, Mrs. Yedid, Miss Lauber.

Mrs. Minshall, Mrs. Fant, Miss Lakner, Mrs. Richards.

George Holt

Mrs. Richards: When Dido found Aquinas would not come, Di-do-dum.

Mrs. Minshall: Much have I travell'd in the realms of gold, And many goodly states and kingdoms seen

...
Miss Lakner: Cervantes smiled Spain's chivalry away.

Mrs. Fant: A man's grammar, like Caesar's, must not only be pure, but above suspicion of impurity.

George Holt: Huxley says that chastity is the most unnatural of sexual perversions.

Mrs. Koelliker.

Mrs. Koelliker: Did you ever have the measles and if so, how many?

Mrs. Coles, Miss Wilson, Mrs. Fleming, Miss Kennedy.

Miss Kennedy: When the rules of the game prove unsuitable for victory, the gentlemen of England change the rules of the game.

Mrs. Fleming: There's nothing so good for the inside of a man as the outside of a horse.

Miss Wilson: Win without boasting. Lose without excuse.

Mrs. Coles: The universe lies before you on the floor, in the air, in the mysterious bodies of your dancers, in your mind. From this voyage, no one returns poor or weary.

G E N E R A L

H O S P I T A L

Mrs. Miller, Dr. Dingle.

Mrs. Miller: Cure the disease and kill the patient.

Dr. Dingle: Throw physic to the dogs; I'll none of it.

Mrs. Grayson.

Mrs. Grayson: A cucumber should be well sliced and dressed with pepper and vinegar, and then thrown out, as good for nothing.

Mrs. Hritz, Mr. Bailey, Mrs. Hucko.

SALVATION ARMY

Mrs. Hritz: Come away; poverty's catching.

Mr. Bailey: Money makes a man laugh.

Mrs. Hucko: Money speaks sense in a language all nations understand.

Mrs. Boylan, Mrs. Patchin.

Mrs. Boylan: It's all in the day's work, as the huntsman said when the lion ate him.

Mrs. Patchin: The giant rat of Sumatra, a story for which the world is not yet prepared.

THE BOOKIES

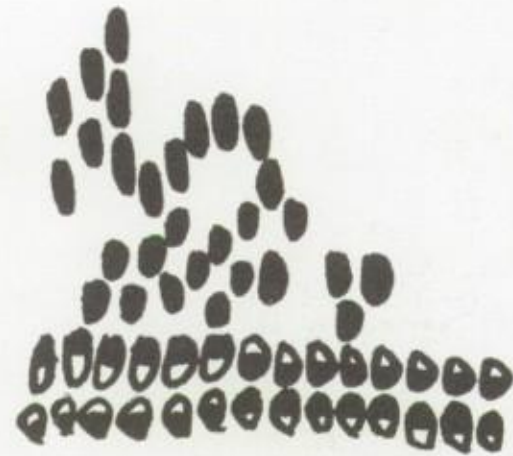

Dogs: His locked, lettered, braw brass collar, Shew'd him the gentleman and scholar.

Timber: Green grow the rashes O,
Green grow the rashes O,
The sweetest hours that e'er I spend,
Are spent among the lasses O!

Sandy McTavish, Timber, Dougal McDougall.

Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Gold, Mrs. Newell.

Mrs. Arnold: Hark! from the tombs a doleful sound.

Mrs. Gold: Only two classes of books are of universal appeal: the very best and the very worst.

Mrs. Newell: Go, litel book, go litel myn tragedie.

WONDER BREAD BUILDS

Front: Miss Postance, Mrs. Pomeroy, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Moran. Back: Mrs. Kennerdell, Miss Taylor, Mrs. Norwick, Mrs. Bayless, Mrs. Akers.

Dear Diane -

well, It took 14 years to get another Diane in my class, and on top off that she even spells it the same. But at least she is as nice as anyone could want someone to be, Good luck in your modeling. maybe someday when you're a famous model, I'll be able to say that I knew you. STUDENT COUNCIL

The force at the core leading our cause forward is the Chinese Communist Party. The theoretical basis guiding our thinking is Marxism-Leninism.

On Floor: Hester Barlow, Friendship, Debbie Shepard, Proctor. On Chairs: Chris Warburton, Dining Room, Andi Helwig, Dress, Sally Saunders, Order, Betsy Foote, Assembly, Vicki Vermes, Poster. Standing: Sally Schaefer, Library, Carol Smith, A.F.S., Debby Dalton, Four Schools, Lindsay Pomeroy, Finance.

Is Student Council Dead?

Ako Yamaguchi and her American family, the Pomeroy family.

The first thing that surprised me when I came to the United States, was the number of products tagged "Made in Japan." I have found not only cameras, televisions, radios, china dishes, toys, Christmas ornaments, and dog necklaces, but also things I had never seen in Japan before. . . . Everything is larger in the United States, such as the sky, trees, cars, watermelons, so forth. Only beer bottles are larger in Japan, as far as I know. . . .

In my Japanese school we don't have uniforms. We can wear any clothes except pants and kimonos. In the United States, I come to Laurel School, so I wear a green skirt, a white blouse, and saddle shoes. Now I know the great value of uniforms, so I wish we could have a uniform in Japan, too. . . .

As well as I love Japan, I love this country, the United States of America, very much. . . . I really think that I am the luckiest AFS student to be here, to study in Laurel School, and to be a member of an American family.

Now I remember a day when I was watching a ship in the Kobe port. One warm spring day, I found a small but bright and pretty ship in the harbor. I had seen a lot of ships before, but they were not as fine as she was. I asked the ship why she seems so happy and nice. The ship answered me, "That is because my name is Friendship."

Thank you very much. Ako

PETER [to Patrick, laying a hand on his arm]. Did you see an old woman going down the path?

PATRICK. I did not, but I saw a young girl, and she had the walk of a queen.

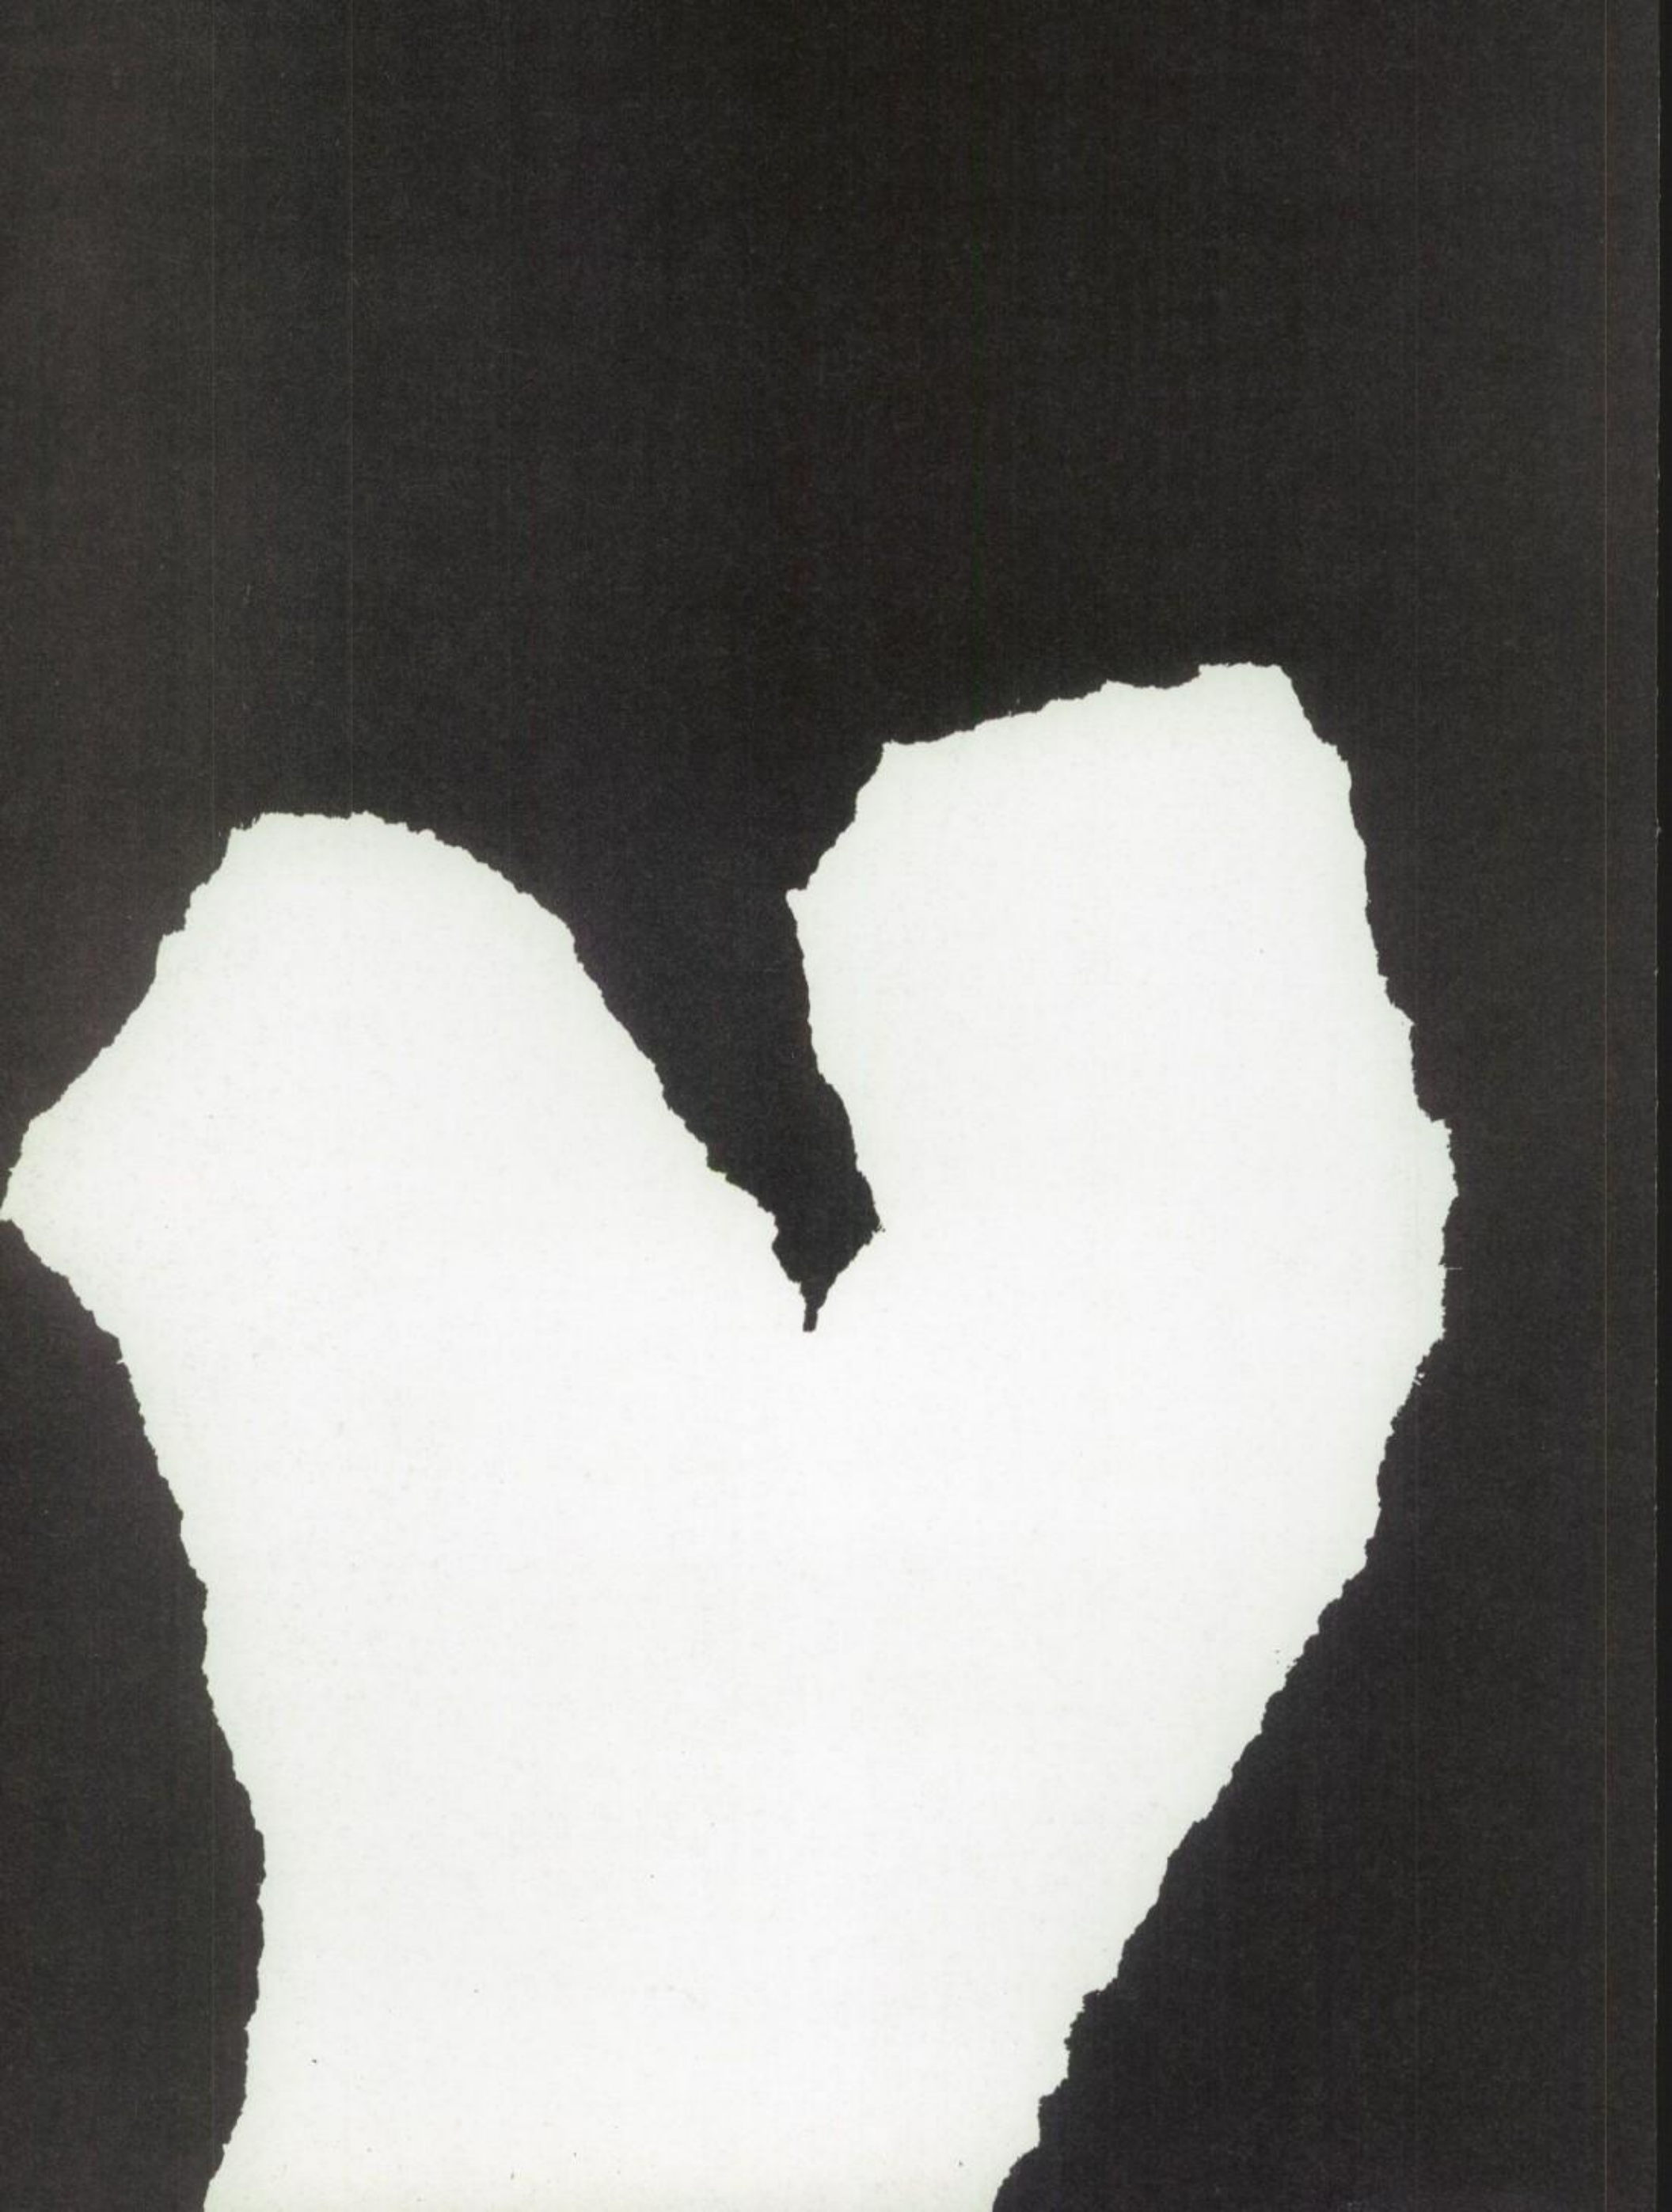

W. B. Yeats

Soothly, yon stands the escutcheon of Lady Elizabeth Gerfen. It is emblazoned on a lozenge because, above all, Mlle. Gerfen is a lady and is accorded the honor of the lozenge shield. The blue border, lined with silver fleur-de-lis, shows her loyalty to France, its people and its tongue. In the upper left corner (although it be named "dexter" according to the ways of heraldry) we find a field in purple and red whereon a sun in its golden glory smiles. For this is the yearly stained glass window which is possible only with the cheer and succor of Mlle. Gerfen. Its triumph is hers. In the upper right corner, there lies a field of red, whereon are three green laurel leaves torn from the branch, and a sheaf of shining wheat. For this is Mlle. Gerfen, the teacher, who, with generosity and diligence, helps to form her students as individuals in thought and action. In the lower left corner, lies a purple field, and there a pointless sword of mercy is flourished below a wreathed heart. For this is Mlle. Gerfen, the kind and thoughtful. Her heart is crowned with courtesy and she ever shows mercy to her who is hard beset with work. In the lower right corner, blazing on a field of ermine white besprinkled with black, are two crossed gold keys and a purple diadem. For here is Mlle. Gerfen, the Queen of the French department and wielder of just power therein. Each bearing denotes majesty, in spirit and in deed.

This escutcheon is charged with the heads of two regal beasts on a black field powdered with golden specks. They do betoken the two natures of Mlle. Gerfen. Here is the white unicorn with horn of gold, mysterious, perpetually youthful, and dreaming. Here is the lion, tawny in color (a tincture rare in heraldry, and rare verily is this lady) with mane of proud gold, full of purpose and strength. And yea, they do face one another in balance and peace.

Thus it stands, in rich purple and red and gold bearings, yet I trow by the faith of my body that the lady it does represent is a hundredfold more worthy than any coat of arms, though it be that of Arthur himself.

A MESSAGE TO LAUREL'S FINE FACULTY

So we'll go no more a-studying
So late into the night,
Though the Laurel halls keep calling
With ideals and goals so bright.

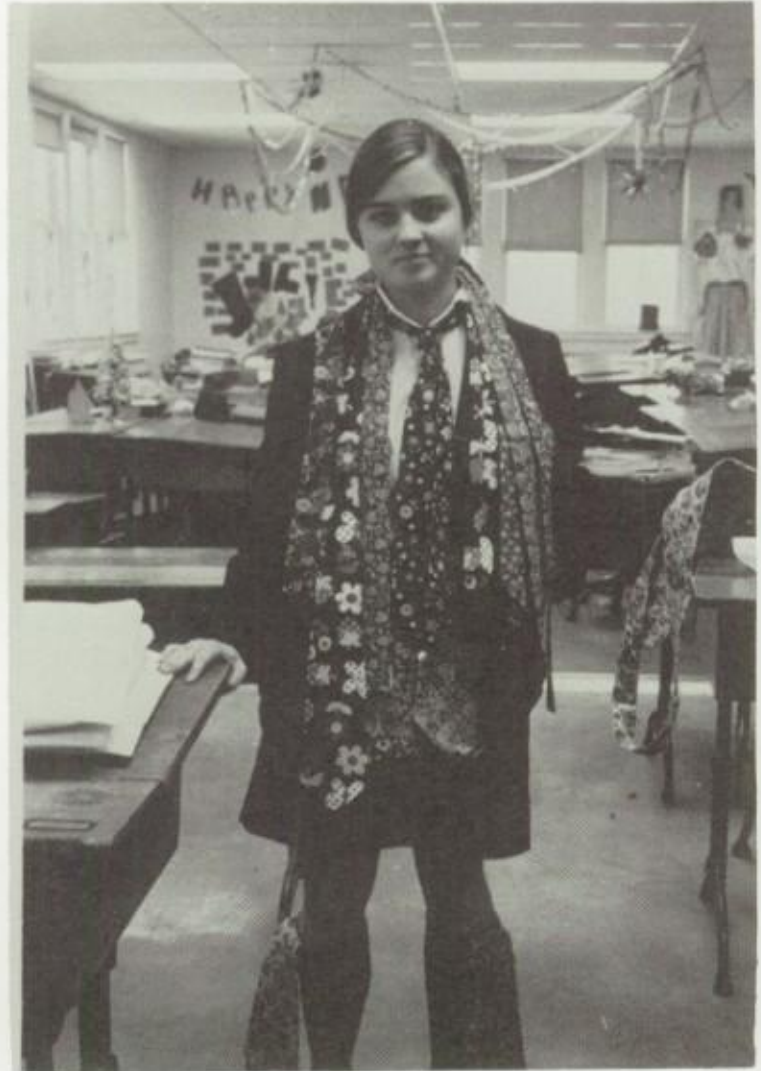

For the students must leave the library
And face the real world's test
To work and love and marry,
And live their life with zest.

Though our nights have been filled with studying,
We still have much to learn.
Yet we'll go to find out all alone,
For we must have our turn.

It's that dumb guy on the other side of the books!

Bratenahl Place

where the good life is more than a sometime thing.

It's constant. And it's all around you. The buildings themselves. The grounds. The lakefront. Bratenahl with its wooded areas and beautiful estates.

Bratenahl Place means a condominium building of 87 suites and an apartment building of 180 suites that have no equal in this part of the country.

We hired internationally famous architects and interior designers to create the largest, most lavish suites between New York and Chicago. (So large in fact, that in the apartment building, the most expensive rent in town is actually the least expensive rent in town, per square foot.)

We provided almost every imaginable convenience, and excellent recreational facilities. And it's all overlooking the lake in Bratenahl, one minute from the freeway and ten minutes from downtown. Now that there's Bratenahl Place, your ideas of the good life are in for some changes. See them soon.

Condominiums are open for your inspection daily from 9 A.M. till 6 P.M. and on Saturdays and Sundays from noon till 6. One, two and three-bedroom rental suites start at $350; open daily from noon till 8, and Saturdays and Sundays from noon till 6. Or call 541-4040 for appointments or additional information.

Now watch closely, girls, building frog cages isn't like building atoms.

Now here's our secret attack plan.

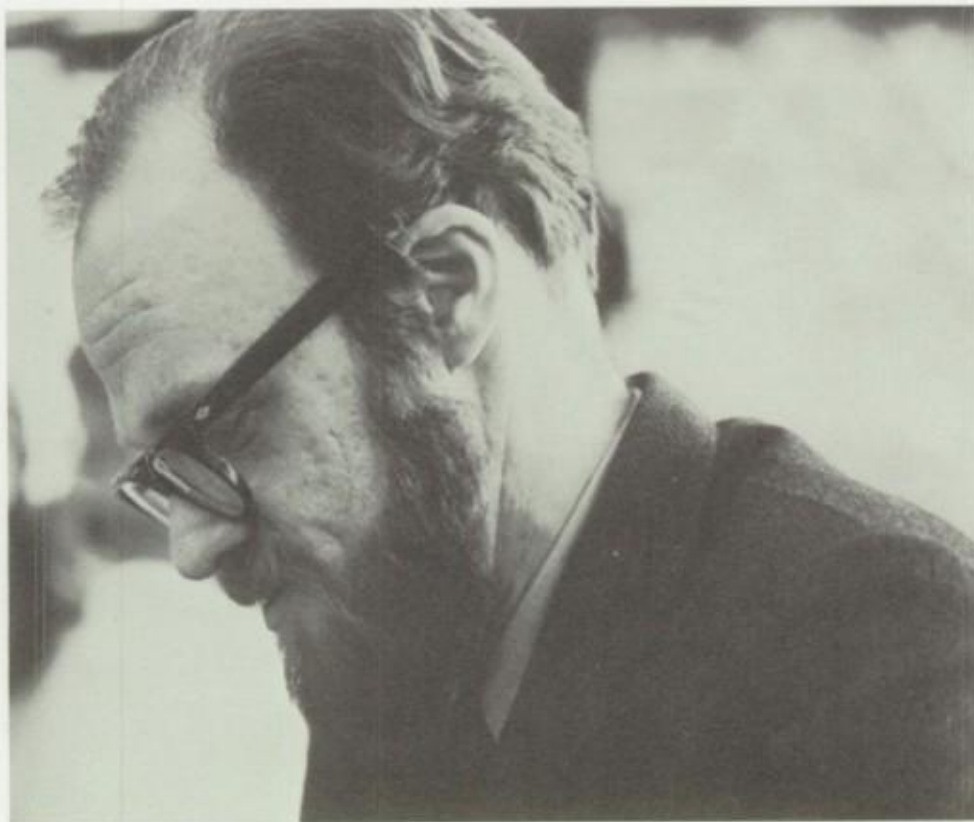

Somehow it seems to me that someone is missing, Candy?

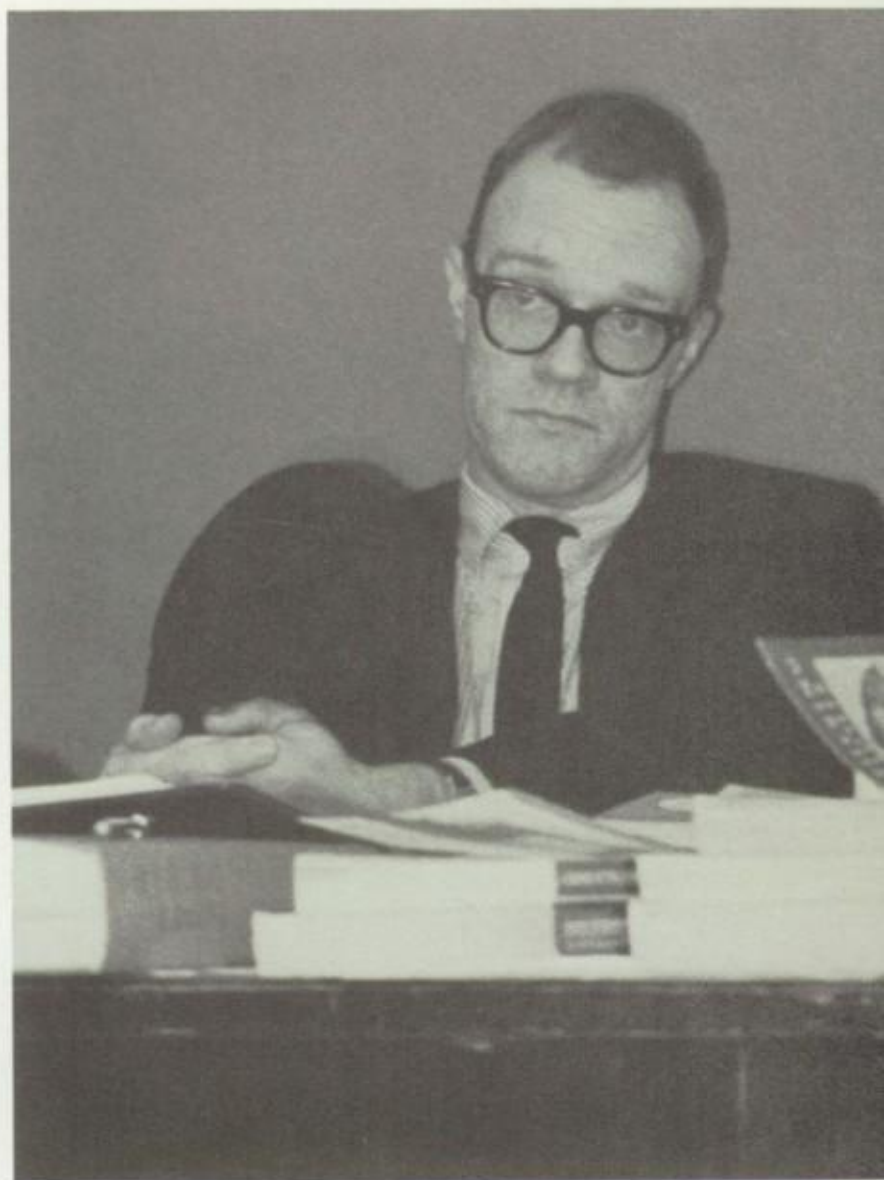

You may not believe this but Dr. Hall is inside, and she'll give us each three wishes.

Ellie and Betsy started out buying this ad but Betsy decided that she needed the money to go to Trinity so she got Mary to buy her part of the ad and so Ellie and Mary are now the owners of this ad but Ellie was at Harvard and Mary went off to Brown before they had decided on what they wanted in the ad so Ellie and Cary (when Mary was away) decided to get together and plan what to say in the ad and came up with the fact that there isn't too much space in a quarter page ad to say very much but figured that there would be enough room to say that we're all graduating and pretty glad of it.
